Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 09/13/10 has been entered.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 7, 12 and 13 are allowed.

3. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Claim 7 recites a detection method for detecting a plurality of different substances in a specimen. The method is comprised of the steps of:

- flowing the specimen through a detection element having a first substance trapping portion immobilizing a first substance trapping body and second substance trapping portion immobilizing a first substance trapping body such that first and second substances are immobilized;

- flowing a label solution through the first and second substance trapping portions, the label solution including third and fourth substances for acting on/bonding with the first and second trapped substances, respectively;

- flowing a signal solution through the first and second substance trapping portions such that a layer of alcohol solution flows between two aqueous layers to acquire a signal from the trapping portions.

The Examiner considers the Weigl reference to be the closest reference. Weigl teaches a method of flowing a sample down a channel, trapping the sample elements on a moving bead that is also moving in the channel and then detecting a signal. That is, Weigl does not teach immobilizing first and second substances in a first substance trapping portion immobilizing a first substance trapping body and second substance trapping portion immobilizing a first substance trapping body.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
